

In order to protect user's privacy rights and comply with relevant regulations, Meta Transaction (hereinafter referred to as "the platform") provides the following Cookie Agreement:

1. Definition of Cookies: Cookies refer to small text files that are stored on your device when you visit our platform. These files contain data related to your personal information and website preferences.

2. Use of Cookies: We use cookies when you access our investment trading platform to provide a better user experience and personalized services. The use of cookies includes but is not limited to the following aspects:

- Keeping your login status persistent to avoid the need to re-enter your username and password every time.
- Recording your preference settings, such as language and theme.
- Collecting statistical information to improve the website's performance and functionality.
- Recommending relevant investment products and services to you.

3. Types of Cookies: We use the following two types of cookies:

- Session Cookies: These cookies are automatically deleted after you close your browser, and they are primarily used to maintain your session and login status on the platform.
- Persistent Cookies: These cookies are stored on your device for a period of time and are used to save your preference settings and provide personalized services.

4. Third-Party Cookies: Our investment trading platform may use third-party services or tracking tools that may set their own cookies when you visit our website. These third-party cookies are set by the respective service providers, and we cannot directly access or control these cookies. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of these third-party service providers to understand how they use cookies.

5. Cookie Management: You can manage and control cookies according to your preferences and needs. Typically, you can disable or delete specific cookies through your browser settings. However, please note that disabling or deleting certain cookies may impact your user experience on the platform, and some functionalities may not work correctly.

6. Privacy Protection: We value your privacy and take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information and cookie data. We only collect, store, and process your personal information within the scope permitted by law and do not share it with third parties without your consent.

Please carefully read and understand this Cookie Agreement before using the platform. If you have any questions or need further clarification, please contact our customer service team.
